

BRITISH VOGUE

Lesley Lau

It's a busy week for the one per cent. When the super rich aren't calling their bank managers in a fluster over Okiki Akinfe artworks or Alex Da Corte sculptures at Frieze, or sipping martinis at the Il Pellicano-hosted Bobbi's Bar at St Clement, they're being chauffeured to Berkeley Square in Mayfair for PAD Art and Design Fair, adding one-of-a-kind jewellery, rare objets and heirlooms to their shopping lists.

While Frieze can feel a little like walking through an overstimulating airport terminal, PAD has a low-lit élan befitting the treasures exhibited by local and international galleries and jewellers, including Rose Uniacke, Carpenters Workshop, Galerie Kreo and Lloyd Choi Gallery. There's something a little more sumptuous, too, about the looks sported by the elite as they browse Japanese vessels by Kansai Noguchi, sofas crafted from colourful, resin-coated balloons by Seungjin Yang, intricately worked gold bracelets by Buccellati and a Nikos Koulis necklace fashioned from tortoiseshell and a tassel of diamonds.

From boiler suits and bold prints to animal brooches and luxe tailoring, discover the best-dressed people at PAD Art and Design Fair below.

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lau

Lesley Lau

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lou

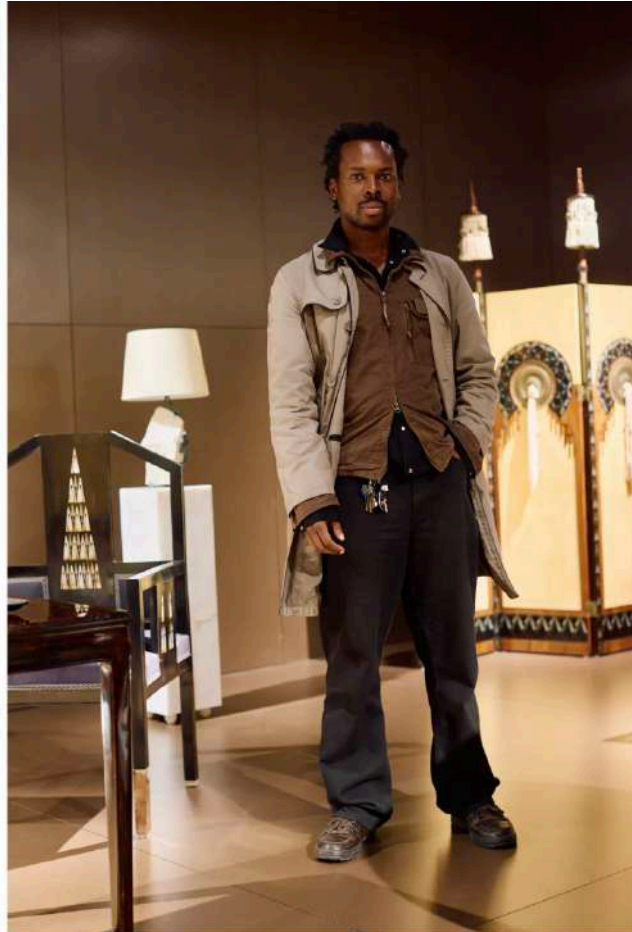

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lau

Lesley Lau

Lesley Lau

Lesley Lau

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lou

Lesley Lau

Lesley Lau

Lesley Lou