« HOMEWARD BOUND

Over 225 years, a Liverpool family has crafted a dazzling path from local jeweller to Bond St darling. The story of Boodles' achievement, Pure Brilliance: The Boodles Story, opens at the Lady Lever Art Gallery in its home town on 22 October, chronicling the city's early vibrant jewellery industry, from which grew this modern luxury brand. Until 5 March 23, liverpoolmuseums.org.uk

A SHARED LANGUAGE »

In 2010 artist Cindy Sherman bid at a fundraiser for the opportunity to commission a piece from high jewellery designer Anna Hu.

The result, the Yin Yang hand ornament, has a new home in Paris at the Musée des Arts Décoratifs. The serpentine design demonstrates Anna's contemporary versatility and, as she says, is an expression of two artists 'speaking the same language'. annahu.com

» LAB-GROWN COUTURE

American created-diamond brand Smiling Rocks takes a bold step with its first couture collection of one-off handmade pieces using best quality lab-grown diamonds up to 6 carats in weight. Our top picks are the Rays necklace with 82 pear-shaped gems and a dramatic double drop (shown here, EPOA) and the Olivia earrings, with cluster-style pear and marquise diamonds elegantly caressing the ear (£32,000). A proportion of each sale goes to environmental charities. smilingrocks.com

Annoushka Flight stud earrings, £1,900; earring drops, 18ct yellow gold, lapis lazuli, diamonds, £1,400

« THE MOST IMPORTANT MEAL

Flight, Annoushka's new collection of arrowhead jewellery, is inspired by the spirit of change and empowerment. This same idea motivated the designer to establish The Brilliant Breakfast two years ago. Each autumn, the event raises money to assist young women helped by The Prince's Trust – empowering them to live, learn and earn. Annoushka's message, for Flight and The Brilliant Breakfast, is to follow your dreams. 10-16 October, thebrilliantbreakfast.co.uk; annoushka.com
