

Forbes

Highlights Of Autumn Art Fair Season In London

Lee Sharrock Contributor @

My mission is to spotlight great art and culture globally.

Follow

Sep 19, 2024, 04:46pm EDT

Updated Sep 19, 2024, 05:27pm EDT

Leonora Carrington, The Dancer (El Bailarín), 2011, rossogranada. Frieze Sculpture 2024. Photo by Linda Nyland. Courtesy of Linda Nyland/ Frieze. LEONORA CARRINGTON, THE DANCER (EL BAILARÍN), 2011, ROSSOGRANADA. FRIEZE SCULPTURE 2024. PHOTO BY LINDA NYLIND. COURTESY OF LINDA NYLIND/ FRIEZE.

As Autumn arrives in London and summer fades into the distance, a host of art fairs are on the horizon to suit different tastes and budgets. From the OG Frieze London where the world's blue chip galleries present their highest value artists, to the artist-fronted The Other Art Fair which offers a more affordable selection of art and celebrates its 100th edition, the 1-54 fair spotlighting art from Africa and the diaspora to the Women In Art fair redressing the gender imbalance in the art world, there is something for everyone to enjoy.

PAD London Berkeley Square (October 8 to 13, 2024)

Until PAD London was founded by Parisian antiques dealer Patrick Perrin, design lovers had to travel to the Jardin des Tuileries in Paris for the original fair celebrating 20th Century and contemporary design. PAD Paris began in 1998, and since 2007 PAD London has taken over Berkeley Square in Mayfair. The 16th edition of PAD London isn't limited to design, there is also jewellery, ceramics and decorative arts to be found amongst the presentations by 62 galleries from around the world.

I'm looking forward to discovering the work of three Indian design studios including Vikram Goyal's collaboration with Italian collectible design gallery Nilufar and Dhruv Agarwal's 'Bloom' chandelier, as well as a new collection by Korean designer Kyeok Kim, Brazilian Modernist design from Oscar Niemeyer and Juliana Vasconcellos, and Studio Renn's jewellery inspired by natural forms such as Cacti.

Mahog Chair By Juliana Vasconcellos. Courtesy of Brazil Modernist and PAD London MAHOG CHAIR BY JULIANA VASCONCELLOS. COURTESY OF BRAZIL MODERNIST AND PAD LONDON